The results of the Students Satisfaction Survey for 2022-23 at DAV Velankar College of Commerce, Solapur provide valuable insights into the students' academic experiences. A majority of students express high satisfaction with the quality of teaching, as 90% report that the teaching in their classes is satisfactory, with the majority strongly agreeing. This reflects well on the teaching staff's effectiveness and engagement with students. However, there is a small proportion of students who are dissatisfied with the teaching, highlighting areas where further improvements can be made. Similarly, the relevance of the syllabus to academic and career goals also receives strong approval, with 91% of students agreeing that the syllabus is appropriate. Yet, approximately 9% of students feel that the syllabus does not fully align with their career aspirations, suggesting the need for periodic curriculum reviews to ensure its ongoing relevance in an evolving job market. In terms of clarity and helpfulness of explanations, over 90% of students are satisfied, but a small fraction indicates that some aspects of teaching might lack clarity, which could be addressed through targeted professional development for faculty. When it comes to timely feedback, the majority of students (around 90%) are satisfied with the feedback they receive on assignments and exams. However, there is a notable segment (around 10%) that feels the feedback is delayed, indicating the need for the college to adopt systems that ensure more timely evaluations, perhaps through online platforms or faster turnaround times. The college infrastructure (classrooms, labs, library) also meets the expectations of most students, with 89% agreeing that it supports their learning needs. However, a small number of students are dissatisfied, suggesting there may be specific areas, like lab facilities or library resources, that could benefit from upgrades. The survey also highlights a strong positive response towards opportunities for practical application of the syllabus, with 91% of students agreeing that practical learning opportunities are sufficient. Despite this, some students feel there could be more emphasis on real-world application, which could be addressed by incorporating more internships, workshops, and practical assignments. Regarding learning resources, 90% of students are satisfied, but a small percentage feel there could be better access to materials, signaling a potential area for investment in additional resources such as online journals, textbooks, or software tools. The support for extracurricular activities is another area where students express high satisfaction, with 89% feeling encouraged to engage in activities outside of academics. However, there is room for improvement in terms of the resources and space provided for such activities, as some students feel there could be more support for their extracurricular interests. Finally, when considering overall satisfaction with the college experience, the survey shows that the majority (89%) are pleased with their time at the college, though a small minority expresses dissatisfaction, which presents an opportunity to address specific concerns to enhance the overall experience. In conclusion, while the college performs well in many areas, there are clear indications that it could benefit from focused improvements in feedback timeliness, infrastructure, and the practical application of the syllabus. By addressing the concerns raised by the minority of students, the college can further enhance its academic environment and student experience.

6. Practical Application: Action: The college can focus on integrating more hands-on learning experiences, such as internships, workshops, and live projects, into the syllabus.
7. Learning Resources: Action: The college should invest in additional learning materials, such as online resources, textbooks, and e-library services, to ensure students have adequate access to academic materials.
8. Extracurricular Support: Action: Strengthening extracurricular programs and increasing student engagement in events will further improve satisfaction. Dedicated spaces and resources for these activities could be considered.
