Students were introduced to some of the most popular AI tools available in the market, which are revolutionizing business writing. Dr. Gaikwad explained the benefits and limitations of these tools. He encouraged students to make informed choices when selecting the right AI solutions for their professional needs. Additionally, he highlighted the ethical considerations when using AI in business communication, such as ensuring accuracy, avoiding over-reliance on automation, and maintaining a personal touch in professional interactions.

The workshop proved to be an excellent learning opportunity for all participants. It not only enhanced their understanding of business correspondence but also exposed them to the practical applications of emerging technologies like AI. By the end of the workshop, students felt more confident about incorporating AI into their own work, whether it be for writing emails, drafting proposals, or generating reports.

The workshop on Business Correspondence Using AI was a tremendous success. It equipped students with valuable knowledge that will be crucial in their academic and professional careers. The session helped them gain a deeper understanding of how AI can transform traditional business practices and prepare them for the future of work. The workshop was a highly innovative and interactive experience, one that gave students the tools and insights they need to stay ahead in the digital age of business communication.

Report on Workshop on Business Correspondence Using AI

A workshop on Business Correspondence Using AI was organised on 27th February 2024 at Room No. C8 in D. A. V. Velankar College of Commerce, Solapur. The purpose of the workshop was to introduce students, particularly research students, to the use of Artificial Intelligence (AI) in enhancing business communication. In today's rapidly advancing digital world, AI is becoming an essential tool for improving efficiency and effectiveness in business correspondence. The workshop aimed to provide students with practical knowledge on how to leverage AI to improve their communication skills in a professional setting.

Dr. Anurag Gaikwad, a recognised expert in AI and business communication, was invited as the resource person for the workshop. Dr. Gaikwad started the session by explaining the basics of AI and how it is being integrated into various business practices, particularly in the field of business correspondence. He demonstrated how AI tools can help automate routine business communication, saving time while ensuring clarity and professionalism.

Throughout the workshop, Dr. Gaikwad provided practical examples and case studies, showing how AI can be applied to write, edit, and structure business emails, letters, and reports. He explained how AI-based tools can assist in identifying key information, managing communication workflows, and drafting responses in real-time. Dr. Gaikwad's approach was interactive, and he encouraged students to experiment with the tools and ask questions about how they could use AI in their own professional work.

The workshop was well-received by the students, who found it both informative and thought-provoking. Many students were fascinated by how AI can be used to improve the quality of business communication while reducing manual effort. They were able to understand the importance of staying updated with new technological trends in business, especially in the field of communication. The session also gave them a clear understanding of how AI could potentially streamline their work processes, making them more effective and productive in their future careers.

Report on Workshop on Research Methodology

A workshop on Research Methodology was organised on 2nd January 2024 at Classroom No. C12 in D. A. V. Velankar College of Commerce, Solapur. The workshop aimed to provide students, particularly research scholars, with essential knowledge about research methodology, which is crucial for preparing research theses and dissertations. The event was designed to help students better understand the research process, including how to approach their topics, collect data, and present their findings in a structured and effective manner. Dr. J. K. Mulla, an expert in research methodology, was invited as the resource person for the session. He covered the key steps involved in conducting research, such as formulating research questions, selecting research methods, and analyzing data. Dr. Mulla also highlighted the importance of proper documentation and referencing in academic research. His clear and practical explanations helped students grasp the complexities of research work and improved their understanding of how to conduct their own research projects.

The workshop was attended by a number of enthusiastic students, who found the session both informative and helpful. They gained a better understanding of the research process and felt more confident about starting their own research projects. The event provided an excellent opportunity for students to learn from an experienced professional and enhance their academic skills. Overall, the workshop on research methodology was a success. It provided students with valuable insights that will assist them in their future academic work, particularly in preparing research theses and dissertations. The session was a great learning experience for all participants and encouraged them to approach their research with more clarity and confidence.

Report on Workshop on Preparation of Research Thesis and Dissertation

A workshop on Preparation of Research Thesis and Dissertation was organised on 22nd November 2023 at Classroom No. C10 in D. A. V. Velankar College of Commerce, Solapur. The purpose of the workshop was to provide students, particularly research students, with practical guidance on how to successfully prepare a research thesis and dissertation. The event aimed to equip students with the necessary skills and knowledge for conducting quality research and producing well-structured academic work. Dr. S. S. Maske, a highly experienced expert in academic research, was invited to lead the session and offer valuable insights.

Throughout the workshop, Dr. Maske explained the essential components of a research thesis and dissertation. He discussed the importance of selecting a clear and focused research topic, creating a well-defined research question, and developing a robust research methodology. Dr. Maske emphasised the need for critical analysis, proper referencing, and clear writing. He also provided tips on how to organise the thesis or dissertation, including how to present research findings and structure each chapter effectively.

In addition to these practical tips, Dr. Maske highlighted common mistakes students often make when writing research papers and how to avoid them. He encouraged students to pay attention to detail and to ensure that their work is original and well-supported by credible sources. Students were given an opportunity to ask questions and discuss specific challenges they faced in their research work. The session was interactive, and students appreciated the practical advice and real-world examples shared by Dr. Maske.

The workshop was well-attended by a group of enthusiastic students, all eager to improve their research skills. Many students expressed their appreciation for the clear explanations and useful resources provided during the session. They felt more confident about approaching their own research projects, with a better understanding of the process of writing a thesis or dissertation.

Overall, the workshop proved to be an excellent opportunity for students to learn about the intricacies of research work from an expert. It provided them with a clear roadmap for tackling their own research projects and preparing high-quality academic papers. The event was a great success, offering valuable insights that will help students in their academic and professional futures.

Report on Workshop on Research Methodology

A workshop on Research Methodology was organised on 2nd January 2024 at Classroom No. C12 in D. A. V. Velankar College of Commerce, Solapur. The workshop aimed to provide students, particularly research scholars, with essential knowledge about research methodology, which is crucial for preparing research theses and dissertations. The event was designed to help students better understand the research process, including how to approach their topics, collect data, and present their findings in a structured and effective manner. Dr. J. K. Mulla, an expert in research methodology, was invited as the resource person for the session. He explained the key steps involved in conducting research, such as formulating research questions, selecting research methods, and analysing data. Dr. Mulla also highlighted the importance of proper documentation and referencing in academic research. His clear and practical explanations helped students grasp the complexities of research work and improved their understanding of how to conduct their own research projects.

The workshop was attended by a number of enthusiastic students, who found the session both informative and helpful. They gained a deeper understanding of the research process and felt more confident about starting their own research projects. The event proved to be an excellent opportunity for students to learn from an experienced professional and enhance their academic skills. Overall, the workshop on research methodology was a success. It provided students with valuable insights that will assist them in their future academic work, particularly in preparing research theses and dissertations. The session was a great learning experience for all participants and encouraged them to approach their research with more clarity and confidence.

Report on Workshop on Preparation of Research Thesis and Dissertation

A workshop on Preparation of Research Thesis and Dissertation was organised on 22nd November 2023 at Classroom No. C10 in D. A. V. Velankar College of Commerce, Solapur. The purpose of the workshop was to provide students, particularly research students, with practical guidance on how to successfully prepare a research thesis and dissertation. The event aimed to equip students with the necessary skills and knowledge for conducting quality research and producing well-structured academic work. Dr. S. S. Maske, a highly experienced expert in academic research, was invited to lead the session and offer valuable insights.

Throughout the workshop, Dr. Maske explained the essential components of a research thesis and dissertation. He discussed the importance of selecting a clear and focused research topic, creating a well-defined research question, and developing a robust research methodology. Dr. Maske emphasised the need for critical analysis, proper referencing, and clear writing. He also provided tips on how to organise the thesis or dissertation, including how to present research findings and structure each chapter effectively.

In addition to these practical tips, Dr. Maske highlighted common mistakes students often make when writing research papers and how to avoid them. He encouraged students to pay attention to detail and to ensure that their work is original and well-supported by credible sources. Students were given an opportunity to ask questions and discuss specific challenges they faced in their research work. The session was interactive, and students appreciated the practical advice and real-world examples shared by Dr. Maske.

The workshop was well-attended by a group of enthusiastic students, all eager to improve their research skills. Many students expressed their appreciation for the clear explanations and useful resources provided during the session. They felt more confident about approaching their own research projects, with a better understanding of the process of writing a thesis or dissertation.

Overall, the workshop proved to be an excellent opportunity for students to learn about the intricacies of research work from an expert. It provided them with a clear roadmap for tackling their own research projects and preparing high-quality academic papers. The event was a great success, offering valuable insights that will help students in their academic and professional futures.
